LEGAL PROGRAM Our Legal Program worked to secure and protect comprehensive legal protections for transgender and gender non-conforming people through targeted policy advocacy, litigation and legal advocacy, and training/technical assistance. Legal accomplishments and progress included the following: We secured a groundbreaking victory at the Seventh Circuit Court of Appeals representing Ash Whitaker, a transgender high school student in Wisconsin who is being denied access to the restroom consistent with his gender identity. The school district has decided not to appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court, so this victory stands. In September 2016, with the National Center for Lesbian Rights (NCLR), we filed a federal lawsuit against Rady's Children's Hospital in San Diego, California, alleging discrimination in violation of the ACA and California law as well as deceptive and unfair business practices. A 15-year-old transgender boy who was admitted to Rady's due to suicidal ideation was mistreated and repeatedly misgendered by the hospital despite his and his mother's advocacy, and was released because his condition had worsened. Shortly after, he died by suicide. In September 2017, a Federal Court ruled that the Affordable Care Act's sex discrimination protections apply to transgender youth. The Court also ruled that the boy's mother can seek emotional damages on behalf of her son. In October 2017, TLC and NCLR filed an amended complaint based on the September ruling. In May 2017, a groundbreaking decision was issued that gender dysphoria cannot be excluded from the ADA. TLC helped write and submit a significant amicus brief in this case. This ruling, the first of its kind in the country, lays a foundation for transgender people to pursue broad civil rights protections across a range of areas, regardless of specific state nondiscrimination protections. Additionally, our Trans Immigrant Defense Effort (TIDE) recruited and trained pro bono lawyers to provide legal representation to TGNC immigrants in immigration petitions and court proceedings and works with grassroots LGBT immigrant groups to develop a community-led deportation defense model. In September 2017, we developed a resource with tips and tools for preparing for raids and interacting with ICE for TGNC immigrants and a resource to prepare TGNC immigrants for credible/reasonable fear interviews to help ensure that they receive a positive credible fear determination which allows them a chance to apply for asylum in the future. We prioritized the creation of this resource because of the administration push for the use of expedited removal against immigrants. We are also working on a guide for attorneys representing TGNC people and a pro se (self-representation) guide for TGNC detainees, who are often unable to secure timely, knowledgeable representation. TIDE represents an investment in defending and supporting the leadership of TGNC migrants by building out community-based responses to state violence, incarceration, and lack of legal representation that focus various forms of expertise and resources on developing an infrastructure to sustain and further this work.

Other programs: TRUTH, our collaborative program with GSA Network to support trans youth in taking control of their stories, building supportive peer networks, and mobilizing on issues that matter to them, succeeded in establishing and sustaining Youth Councils at the national level (9 members), in California (9 members), and in the South (7 members) through 2017. These councils guide TRUTH and are responsible for the development of regional projects and national media campaigns, the creation of peer support resources, and rapid response in moments when TGNC youth voice and leadership are critical. The TRUTH councils have worked on story-based trans 101 trainings for local schools and communities, and TRUTH videos have been incorporated into many trainings. There is a large social media component, primarily targeting young people, through selfie campaigns, Twitter town halls, and other efforts led by the TRUTH councils. While these councils were successful, they did not allow the kind of national reach that was needed, and could not be scaled up in this format without an enormous increase in staffing. In 2018, TRUTH shifted structure to a larger national council that divides into regional committees for local work, and launched an application process for this new TRUTH cohort. TRUTH received over 200 applications and has now completed the selection of the new 30-person council representing youth from every region of the country. In January 2018 we formally launched a new web site for TRUTH: <https://ourtranstruth.org/>. TLC@SONG's Grapevine Survey of TGNC people in the South ran from Nov. 2017-January 31, 2018 and secured 200 responses. Findings will be released in summer 2018. This survey builds on the 2017 "listening tour" to meet with trans community members in key cities. TLC has continued to support local organizing, and has leveraged our NTI to help strengthen movement leadership in Southern communities. Coordination between organizing and legal work in the South has also been strengthened, particularly through Staff Attorney Shawn Meerkamper's engagement with partners at Out South in September 2017. The Black LGBTQIA+ Migrant Project (BLMP) was launched in Fall 2017 through a Soros Justice Fellowship.

POSITIVELY TRANS PROGRAM Our Positively Trans Program's National Advisory Board has grown significantly and is now at 18 members. In March 2017, Positively Trans (T+) released the second and third reports based on our groundbreaking national needs assessment. The second report, Some Kind of Strength takes on the problem that studies of transgender people living with HIV rarely go beyond transmission risk and surveillance data, hindering a holistic understanding of the lives of trans people affected by AIDS that could identify the role of violence and discrimination in creating the conditions that result in the extreme HIV prevalence rates. The third report, See Us as People, addressed the shortcomings of policies that would protect transgender people in theory, but fall short in practice because of a lack of enforcement. Based on the success of the national needs assessment, we are working with members of Positively Trans in Southern Florida, Detroit, and New Orleans to conduct local needs assessments. We organized three digital storytelling workshops during 2017, including one specifically for people on the transmasculine spectrum.

Form 990, Part III, Line 4d - Other Program Services Description

MOVEMENT BUILDING PROGRAMS Our Movement Building Programs worked to increase social acceptance and support for TGNC people and policies through leadership development, coalition building, and public education. Our National Training Institute (NTI) conducted 6 'full' one- or two-day trainings, including a training for 10 HIV+ trans leaders from across the country who are part of our Positively Trans (T+) National Advisory Board in April in New York; a training for 15 Black trans activists, in the context of the Black Trans Advocacy Conference in Dallas, TX in April; a Spanish-Language training for 15 activists in Houston, TX in May; a training in Portland, OR in August reaching 10 TGNC leaders from the Northwest; a training for 16 TGNC youth of color in the East Bay of the San Francisco Bay Area, in partnership with the GSA Network in September; and a training in December for 16 activists from Alaska, Montana, and Washington State. We also conducted leadership trainings and workshops at state and regional conferences, leadership convenings and events targeting the Midwest and South, including an intersectional organizing workshop for 50 participants at the Texas Leadership Institute in February 2017; a community organizing training for 20 TGNC people at the National Asian/Pacific Islander Transfusion TransMasculine Gathering, in August; a movement strategy and advocacy training for 20 TGNC people in Washington State in August; and a Southern LGBT Leadership Convening in partnership with Southerners on New Ground reaching 20 TGNC people. We continued to provide support to NTI graduates after the in-person training, through monthly calls and technical assistance as needed. They have been strengthened in existing campaigns and in creating new community campaigns and services. They have also benefitted from the monthly conference calls maintaining support networks and using the infrastructure to connect with one another and sustain their activism, so the model is just dependent on relationships with TLC. The National TGNC Coalition met in November 2017 and again in early 2018 to map out coalition work for the upcoming year. Fifteen (15) people attended each meeting and voted to approve a formal membership structure and move forward with a TGNC decriminalization campaign that will be launched in 2018 and expand over the next three years.
