Part III Statement of Program Service AccomplishmentsCheck if Schedule O contains a response or note to any line in this Part III ☒1 Briefly describe the organization's mission:

Transgender Law Center TLC changes law, policy and attitudes so that all people can live safely, authentically, and free from discrimination regardless of their gender identity or expression.

2 Did the organization undertake any significant program services during the year which were not listed on the prior Form 990 or 990-EZ? ☐ Yes ☒ No

If "Yes," describe these new services on Schedule O.

3 Did the organization cease conducting, or make significant changes in how it conducts, any program services? ☐ Yes ☒ No

If "Yes," describe these changes on Schedule O.

4 Describe the organization's program service accomplishments for each of its three largest program services, as measured by expenses. Section 501(c)(3) and 501(c)(4) organizations are required to report the amount of grants and allocations to others, the total expenses, and revenue, if any, for each program service reported.4a (Code:) (Expenses $ 1,167,142. including grants of $) (Revenue $ 32,926.)

LEGAL PROGRAM: TLC has continued to develop a litigation strategy that prioritizes addressing various aspects of criminalization of TGNC people, while continuing to sustain other areas of litigation. Prisons: In July, TLC and local co-counsel secured a successful settlement for LSV, a 20-year-old Black trans woman incarcerated in Colorado. Our litigation focuses on the Colorado Department of Corrections' (CDCO) refusal to assign her to a women's prison as an adult, after being originally incarcerated in the juvenile system with other girls, foreshadowing two rapes while in custody. We initiated settlement talks with the state and have held four in-person mediation sessions, one of which was held in the prison where Lindsay is, to ensure she was able to participate fully. The terms of the settlement allowed our client to serve out her sentence at the prison where she has felt safest (cont'd at Schedule O)

4b (Code:) (Expenses $ 1,064,679. including grants of $) (Revenue $)

POLICY & ORGANIZING: One of the most significant developments in our work has been the development of the Trans Agenda for Liberation. This work has been fostered by TLC and our National Training Institute (NTI) process, and has engaged a coalition of trans, nonbinary, and gender nonconforming leaders and activists from across the U.S. over the past year in identifying priorities and strategies that provide a framework for moving toward the world trans communities deserve. The Trans Agenda pillars will guide and shape the development of TLC's work and messaging going forward. See the Agenda pillars on our website. TLC has continued to support our cohort of now more than 200 NTI graduates in their local work and to engage them across TLC's programs. Our NTI curriculum and framework remained a backbone of our leadership development across programs. (cont'd at Schedule O)

4c (Code:) (Expenses $ 767,460. including grants of $ 3,000.) (Revenue $)

POSITIVELY TRANS: The national T+ network has grown to 160+ members. Reports on 3 local data sets from community needs assessments South Florida, New Orleans, and Detroit were published, along with a summary report. (These reports are available at <https://transgenderlawcenter.org/programs/positively-trans>.) Communities are now using these reports to lay the groundwork for local change. T+ also supported groups in Mississippi and New York City to develop leadership and create local plans. We had a major presence at the United States Conference on AIDS (USCA) in September, helping to coordinate a large and diverse presence of TGNC people, distributing our new reports widely, and collaborating in the first ever TransLatinx Caucus. T+ released 14 digital stories on World AIDS Day 2019 as part of public education push, and also collaborated with The National AIDS Memorial's 2019 #SurvivingVoices documentary.

BLACK LGBTQIA+ MIGRANT PROJECT: Along with TLC and 12 other groups, BLMP submitted a complaint to DHS detailing medical neglect of 20 LGBTQ+ and HIV+ migrants in detention centers, demanding the release of all LGBTQ and HIV+ migrants, and calling for accountability for private detention centers. The complaint was introduced as testimony during 2 congressional hearings on detention conditions, which highlighted for members of congress how anti-blackness, homo/transphobia, ableism and HIV stigma render LGBTQ migrants in detention more vulnerable to human rights abuses. With other groups, we co-led a Twitter townhall to raise the voices of Black LGBTQ+ migrants and broader Black communities during HRC's presidential forum.

Consequently, we were able to interject our experiences, issues and vision in an arena where Black and/or LGBTQ+ migration are rarely talked about. We continue to support several detained migrants by connecting them to legal representation, commissary support, bond funds, and mobilization efforts to enhance their legal cases. Post-detention, we provide connections to resources that aid in housing, healthcare, emergency funds, and community. Detainees in the "trans pod" at the Cibola detention center were transferred to CO and WA, and we have had to put extra effort into keeping track of people when they are moved. We continue our organizing efforts to get them released. We convened the Black Migrant Working Group, a coalition of organizations working to protect and defend Black migrant communities across the country. We fought for justice for N, a Cameroonian migrant who died in ICE custody in October. We raised funds for his family to bury him in dignity and provide for his 3 children. Recently, we issued a statement decrying the exclusion of undocumented/under-documented migrants from the COVID economic stimulus package. Our local networks have continued to grow, breaking isolation, and building leadership, while our recently launched Queer Black Migrant narrative will be instrumental in reshaping the migration narrative. BLMP New York City held its first planning retreat in November 2019 and engaged nearly 30 people in its first Garifuna LGBTQ+ migrants meeting this Spring. Through community building events, BLMP Bay Area created a leadership body and successfully fought for the return of O, a gay Black migrant from Chad who was illegally deported. BLMP Minneapolis co-anchored a Black migration event with Rep. Ilhan Omar. While in Houston, we won the establishment of an immigrants' public defense fund. We completed the design of our Queer Black Migrant Survey, recruited and trained leaders from the eight cities identified to anchor data collection across the country. We launched the survey, which is generating critically-needed data to support our efforts. At the national level we have built up our movement and educated and engaged allied movements. 30 members participated in our annual Organizing Institute. We organized an Afrolatinx migrants gathering; led sessions on migrant justice at Southerners On New Ground's OutSouth conference and Creating Change; participated in the "Immigration at the Intersections" convening in DC; and engaged 60+ people in a Houston, TX community forum about the Africa/Muslim Travel Ban.

TLC@SONG: Following the hire in March 2019 of accomplished activist Kayla Gore as the new Southern Regional Organizer, TLC@SONG released its Grapevine report. Kayla has been sharing the report with communities in the South, including at SONG's Bayard Rustin Convening (here we led a trans pre-convening), Gaycation, and annual Queer Southern Revival. The report has also been shared widely with the membership bases of both TLC and SONG. TLC@SONG has continued to support and engage with a range of TGNC community members and leaders in the South.

TRUTH: TRUTH, our collaboration with GSA Network, has continued to empower TGNC youth across the U.S. Regional trainings for 20+ youth leaders, which ran through the summer and into September included trainings about healing and media skill-building workshops. As federal policy and state legislative attacks continue to target TGNC youth TRUTH continues to hold a critical role in raising up the voices, leadership and analysis of TGNC youth often absent in adult led campaigns. Youth spent the fall preparing to launch a campaign on the GSA Day for Gender Justice. The campaign in November focused on the first point of TRUTH's youth-created Nine-Point Platform: We Call for the Right to Self-Determination and Control of our Destinies. TRUTH participants created 18 new 'zines and 4 new podcasts shared online with peers, as well as participating in a range of social media visibility work highlighting local projects. Two TRUTH youth leaders recorded videos at the invitation of TransLash, which were shared as part of a Transgender Day of Remembrance/Resilience livecast supported by Samsung. TRUTH has also been increasingly focused on creating an intergenerational platform-working to build bridges with TGNC elders to strengthen bigger-picture organizing.

BLACK TRANS CIRCLES: Our Black Trans Circles (BTC) project is designed to assist in the development of community organizing projects at the local level, and work with Black trans women leaders to identify opportunities for violence prevention and policy interventions. As noted above, A training was organized (using our NTI framework) for 20 Black trans women in New Orleans and surrounding areas, including Baton Rouge. As part of the gathering, we held a conversation with New Orleans Mayor Latoya Cantrell and leveraged the convening to support a march against Solicitation for Crimes Against Nature laws in New Orleans and an upcoming march for Trans Day of Remembrance. We are currently laying the groundwork for a Midwestern BTC training.

We also continued to foster, fiscally sponsor, and partner with the Black LGBTQIA+ Migrant Project (BLMP),), which has grown its national membership, built local/regional networks, and assisted individual immigrants in detention. BLMP has helped to secure the release from detention of two queer Black migrants.

(cont'd from Page 2) and to have access to financial resources upon release to support her re-entry. Building on this case, in November 2019, we filed TLC's first-ever class action Raven, et al. V. Polis, et al., to address the systemic abuse of all (approximately 170) incarcerated trans women in Colorado. Our complaint seeks damages and injunctive relief related to CDOC's exclusion of trans women from Colorado's women's prison; CDOC's failure to provide trans-competent medical and mental health providers, and its failure to provide adequate medical treatment for gender dysphoria, including surgery; CDOC's failure to protect trans women from sexual assault and anti-trans violence; CDOC's refusal to use proper names, pronouns, and honorifics for trans women; and CDOC's policy of assigning male staff to conduct pat-downs and strip searches of trans women. Criminalization: TLC has stepped up work on criminalization. In Tennessee, we are supporting counsel for "B," a transgender woman who is facing murder charges. TLC@SONG helped to secure B's release from pretrial detention via a bail fund. While responding to a request for technical assistance, we discovered that B was a victim of human trafficking, and that the person B allegedly killed was trafficking her into sex work. Further, the alleged murder was caught on tape, showing that it was clear self-defense. With this new information, B's attorney was able to secure an adjournment that will give more time to prepare her case. As TLC's legal staff considered this case, we realized how often trans women are arrested and punished for acts of self-defense, and are looking at ways to strengthen our work on this issue so that vulnerable trans people are not victimized twice. In North Carolina, we met with a 15-year-old Black trans girl and her mother. A partner had reached out to us about the girl, on the understanding that she had been convicted of distribution of child pornography by sharing photos of herself, and there was concern she would need to register as a sex offender. She was released from juvenile detention in November, returned to high school, and was not required to register as a sex offender. We are looking further into her case to be able to advise the family going forward. Immigration: In our ongoing litigation against ICE for the wrongful death in immigration detention in New Mexico of Roxsana Hernandez, an HIV+ transgender woman, we filed a lawsuit in October 2019 against CoreCivic, a contractor of Cibola County, after we learned that they may have deleted video of Roxsana at the facility, despite the ongoing investigation. In November, we filed a Federal Tort Claims Act administrative complaint, a prerequisite to filing an FTCA suit in federal court. The complaint included the facts, claims, and potential witnesses for the court case. We are gearing up for the court filing by seeking needed experts, obtaining as many documents as possible from defendants through the FOIA and IPRA suits, and securing updated affidavits from caravan members detained with Roxsana. TLC continues to represent a number of vulnerable TGNC immigrants in a variety of immigration proceedings. Our representation of trans immigrants who have been trafficked has generated novel legal strategies and established a precedent that affects all immigrants, expanding the ability for people with serious criminal convictions related to being trafficked to obtain asylum. Among our cases, TLC successfully supported "C," a trans immigrant and victim of trafficking who had been held in solitary confinement for long stretches of time. C was subject to deportation because of having more than one criminal conviction. Although the process was complex, TLC was able to have one of the convictions vacated because it was tied to C being a victim of trafficking. As a result, C was no longer deportable and his immigration case was terminated. We are now waiting for C to be released from detention. In addition, we signed onto and supported the drafting of an amicus brief on behalf of a trans woman who lost her asylum case because she delayed telling her attorney that she was transgender. The brief was filed in July 2019. Finally, in September 2019, we joined a brief submitted by La Clinica de la Raza and others opposing the Department of Homeland Security's new "public charge" rule. Healthcare Access: We secured a favorable, confidential settlement in Prescott v. Rady Children's Hospital. This suit was brought by TLC with the National Center for Lesbian Rights as co-counsel on behalf of the mother of a trans boy who was admitted to the hospital for help regarding suicidal ideation, repeatedly misgendered while in care despite the mother's intervention, and discharged. He died by suicide a short time later. This case secured an important ruling that the Affordable Care Act's sex discrimination protections apply to transgender kids. We also joined an amicus brief in Minton v. Dignity Health, a lawsuit filed by the ACLU against a Catholic hospital in California that abruptly cancelled a hysterectomy on religious grounds upon learning the patient was transgender. In September 2019, the appeals court found in Plaintiff's favor, recognizing that Dignity Health had a duty to prevent discrimination against Mr. Minton. Defendants sought review from the Supreme Court of California, which was denied in December. We have also joined a number of amicus briefs in multiple cases challenging new federal "conscience rights" that undermine nondiscrimination in health care. Other cases: TLC also advanced other cases addressing issues include public accommodations and identity documents, and submitted or joined amicus briefs in key cases, including Grimm v. Gloucester Co. School Board at the Fourth Circuit Court of Appeals and the Title VII cases being heard by U.S. Supreme Court. Legal Helpdesk: TLC's Legal Helpdesk responded to 1,324 requests for assistance, and our Prison Mail Program responded to 509. TLC's Legal Services Project has had significant success in engaging interns and recruiting volunteers through a variety of new sources, including the national We the Action network and a pilot partnership with the firm Kirkland & Ellis. We sustained the national legal clinics calendar on our web site and continued to research and update legal resources to address community needs.

(cont'd from Page 2) For example, we partnered with the Black LGBTQIA+ Migrant Project (BLMP) to organize a Southern convening in Atlanta, GA, bringing together 45 participants. We organized two convenings to develop the leadership and support the strategy of the National TGNC Coalition of 25-30 TGNC leaders working on the Trans Agenda for Liberation. In August, as part of the Black Trans Circles project, we held a training for approximately 20 Black trans women from New Orleans and surrounding areas, including Baton Rouge. In December, we organized a groundbreaking LGBTQ disability NTI for 13 participants. This is the first such event that anyone involved knows of created by and for queer and trans disabled people. This group will serve as the Community Advisory Board for an ongoing disability project. In January 2020, TLC staff and National Coalition members worked together to host the Trans Institute at Creating Change, including the "soft launch" of the Trans Agenda for Liberation. In June 2019 as part of the #justiceforroxsana campaign with Familia TQLM and BLMP we partnered with local leaders in El Paso to organize a protest and day of action raising up the injustices faced by LGBT migrants, particularly due to the death of a second trans migrant, Joanna Medina, and challenging violence against trans people generally, using the message #stonewallisnow. During World Pride in New York City, TLC was given the opportunity to make the #stonewallisnow message visible through a 10 second rotating billboard in Times Square. With 13 other LGBTQ and human rights partners, we have filed a complaint with the Dept. of Homeland Security and other agencies on medical neglect of LGBTQ and HIV+ migrants in detention. The complaint was introduced as testimony in two Congressional hearings and has also been turned into a sign-on, garnering support from an additional 47 organizations. In December 2019, we submitted a supplemental complaint about Roxsana's case specifically, after receiving documents that shed light on the repeated failure of CBP and ICE officials to provide her with medical care in violation of their own policies. We partnered with the National Center for Transgender Equality (NCTE) to create the Protect Trans Health campaign in response to the May 24, 2019 announcement that the Department of Health and Human Services planned to roll back the Health Care Rights Law, an Obama-era regulation making it clear that discrimination against transgender people by providers, hospitals, and insurers is illegal. Our organizing to ensure public comment in favor of the law had an overwhelming impact - as of the August 13, 2019 deadline for public comments on the Trump administration's proposed rollback of a regulation protecting transgender people's access to health care, a national coalition of civil rights organizations collected over 132,400 comments in defense of transgender health - more than any other regulation since Regulation.Gov was launched in 2003.
